

ALL CAVERS

The cost of access to the Caves at Pridhamsleigh is due to rise (£1.50 per head as of 1st Nov 2006). This rise is due to groups and users of the cave abusing the access system, access to the cave is not a given or legal right, it is with the permission of the landowner – there is no “right of way” across the land.

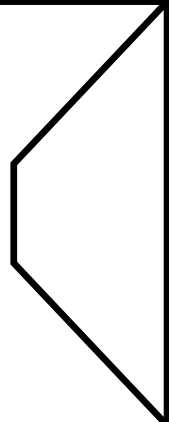

It has become evident that a number of regular users are not paying the correct fee and/or recording the correct number in their group. Further; it is also known that a number of groups have not been signing in and making any payment whatsoever – both of these practice’s are totally unacceptable and must stop immediately. If this practice continues then the cave will be closed by the landowner for all groups.

To assist in eradicating these unacceptable practices that each visit you make to the cave you place your payment inside an envelope and record the following information on the outside (see example). Please continue to sign the blackboard as well as using envelopes. If your organisation has an account please also follow this procedure, but do not include any payment.

Please do not be the cause of losing this unique facility. This cave is at risk of being closed.
